Good News Reflection: How Love humbles us into righteousness

In this Sunday's Gospel reading, we see what happens when our primary motivation in whatever we do is not love but self-centeredness. "Whoever exalts himself will be humbled." Sooner or later, self-exalting people get humbled, whether they realize it or not. They are brought down low by their own behaviors. People who encounter them in daily life do not think very highly of them. And certainly, God doesn't either.

The much better alternative is to let our love for others be what humbles us.

Without love as our motivation, we believe in our own so-called "righteousness," thinking we're okay when we're not. But when we do good deeds for others because we genuinely care about them, the pride of our self-righteousness is replaced by holy humility.

We are made righteous by our love for others. Self-righteousness is self-made -- it motivates us to do good, but only for the selfish purpose of looking admirable, winning God's approval, or gaining some other personal benefit. Love, which is true righteousness, motivates us to do good for the sake of others.

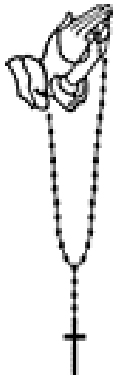

Look at the Pharisee in Jesus' parable. We all behave like that from time to time. Think of someone who is inferior to you because you are holier, who doesn't go to church as often as you do, or who doesn't pray like you do. Think of someone who is not worthy of your time and caregiving. Think of someone who is too difficult to love.

The cure for this self-righteousness is to get in touch with God's concern for them. Once we unite our hearts to God's love for them, we begin to care about them, too. And the most powerful, most successful way to accomplish such union with God is through the Sacrament of Reconciliation, which absolves us of self-righteousness and empowers us with divine grace to absorb Christ's own righteousness.

2 Thessalonians 1:11-2:2

Luke 19:1-10

Heavenly Father, we thank you for all the Blessings in our lives; for the very world in which we live and for the health and strength you have bestowed upon us.

The suffering Christ endured provided healing and power over illness. Lord, direct that healing toward our loved ones who suffer and who believe that you can and will restore them to full health.

We call them by name: Alice Schneider, Marianne Davidson, Mindy Doud, Janice Seitz and all those facing an illness or any of life's struggles.

Our condolences to the family and friends of Jean Janoski, wife of Joe. The thoughts and prayers of your church family are with you.

Are you Interested in a Retreat/Mission this year? Father Val would like your input.

1. Should it be for all parishioners?
2. How long should it be, one weekend, a series of evenings, or during the day?
3. What topic should it address?
4. What time of year would you like to have one? Lent? Advent? Other? Call the office with any feedback 306-842-2129

CWL Executive and General Meetings: In future all meetings will be held on Tuesdays, so that Father Valentine will be able to attend. We look forward to having Father with us for guidance and fun!

The next General meeting is on Tuesday, October 25, 2022. October is Autism Awareness month and Jackie Wilson has agreed to come speak about her work with Inclusion Weyburn.

Welcome Visitors and New Parishioners!

Our Parish family warmly welcomes new members. Please fill out a New Parishioner form at your earliest convenience. The forms are located on a table in the foyer! As well, if any parishioner has changed their address, phone number etc., please inform the off twice a month on Wednesdays from 3:30- 5:15pm. beginning November 9th. There will be a small fee for supplies. Contact the office for more information.

Today is World Mission Sunday, which reminds us of the missionary activity of the Church. The first reading from Sirach reminds us that God does not have any favorite people and hears the cries of the vulnerable and marginalized. St. Paul reminds us too that even those who have no one to stand up for them are still held in the Heart of the Lord, echoing Sirach in our duty to ensure solidarity with the oppressed, the poor, the marginalized, the strangers. The gospel hits us hard – do we sometimes want to distance ourselves from others? Do we place ourselves on a pedestal? Do we become blind to the needs of the poor and the world? We sometimes think of missionary work as being done in a country far away, detached from our lives. There are many ways of being a missionary in our communities, both in terms of our own generous response to the Lord in working in that ministry, but also in our support of those missionaries near and far. Through the Annual Appeal, your contributions are used to help support the missionary activity of the Church. We need to reach out to those that have not heard the Good News of the Gospel, and your support helps make this a reality.

New in the Library

Prudence: choose confidently, live boldly by Fr. Gregory Pine, OP

How can you confidently make decisions that will bring true joy? The virtue of prudence holds the key to inspiring the practical wisdom that will guide your decision making. Not your grandmother's definition of prudence, this book will explain how prudence can lead you on the path toward wholeness, happiness and freedom. Now available in the Parish Library. Pro libris!

Stewardship Bulletin Bits: 30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

“...for whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be exalted.” Luke 18.14

Pride and ego are the root causes of most of our sins. Thinking your time is so valuable or your talent is better than anyone else or your money gives you status is another way of making those things “gods” before God. In Stewardship, pride is the opposite of humility. Remember, all that we have and all that we are is a gift from God. We should be humbled by God's incredible generosity and be grateful for all we have been given. Ultimately, gratitude leads us to humility.

F. Division Indigenous Policing Services, in partnership with Melfort RCMP, is organizing a hockey equipment drive for the youth of James Smith Cree Nation.

We will be setting up a collection box at the Church for hockey equipment to help the youths move forward. If you have outgrown equipment; sticks, skates, socks, tape, pucks, pads, gloves, water bottles, bags etc. that are sitting around stinking up your space please consider dropping them off at the Church or St. Michael's school for a way to support and encourage the youth to carry on after their recent tragedy. October 26th is the cut-off date.
