26th Sunday in Ordinary Time
September 28th & September 29th, 2024

Sunday Reflection – 26th Sunday in Ordinary Time.

To Belong to Christ: Scott Hahn Reflects on the Twenty-sixth Sunday of Ordinary Time

Today's Gospel begins with a scene that recalls a similar moment in the history of Israel, the episode recalled in today's First Reading. The seventy elders who receive God's Spirit through Moses prefigure the ministry of the Apostles.

Like Joshua in the First Reading, John makes the mistake of presuming that only a select few are inspired and entrusted to carry out God's plans. The Spirit blows where it wills (see John 3:8), and God desires to bestow His Spirit on all the people of God in every nation under heaven (see Acts 2:5, 38).

God can and will work mighty deeds through the most unexpected and unlikely people. All of us are called to perform even our most humble tasks, such as giving a cup of water, for the sake of His name and the cause of His kingdom.

John believes he is protecting the purity of the Lord's name. But, really, he's only guarding his own privilege and status. It's telling that the Apostles want to shut down the ministry of an exorcist. Authority to drive out demons and unclean spirits was one of the specific powers entrusted to the Twelve (see Mark 3:14–15; 6:7, 13).

Cleanse me from my unknown faults, we pray in today's Psalm. Often, like Joshua and John, perhaps without noticing it, we cloak our failings and fears under the guise of our desire to defend Christ or the Church.

But as Jesus says today, instead of worrying about who is a real Christian and who is not, we should make sure that we ourselves are leading lives worthy of our calling as disciples (see Ephesians 1:4).

Does the advice we give, or the example of our actions, give scandal—causing others to doubt or lose faith? Do we do what we do with mixed motives instead of seeking only the Father's will? Are we living, as this Sunday's Epistle warns, for our own luxury and pleasure while neglecting our neighbors?

We need to keep meditating on His Law, as we sing in today's Psalm. We need to pray for the grace to detect our failings and to overcome them.

Stewardship Bulletin Bit:

26th Sunday in Ordinary Time “Anyone who gives you a cup of water to drink because you belong to Christ, amen, I say to you, will surely not lose his reward. “Mark 9:41

We are made in God’s image and likeness. We tend to forget this. When you look at others, do you see the face of Jesus in them? When others look at you, do they see the face of Jesus in you? When we realize that all lives matter to God, then gratitude and generously become easier. Why? Because that’s the way we are made! We are one Body of Christ; when one of us is hurting, all of us feel the pain.

James’ Pick of the Week

Citizens yet strangers: living authentically Catholic in a divided America by Kenneth Craycraft

It's hard, and getting harder, to discern a proper relationship between our Catholic faith and modern political life. By discussing social teaching, the family, the workplace, the economy and civics, this book challenges us as Catholics to examine the role our Christian faith should play in our public actions, including our moral and political lives. Now available in the Parish Library. Pro Libris!!

Communion to Shut-ins and those in Hospitals: In order to make certain our parishioners who cannot get to the Church for Mass receive the Eucharist; we need their church family to let the office know who is needing this service. Call the office at (306) 842-2129.
